A new exhibition of design-inspired travel products is to go on display in London next month.

The "Travel Through Design" exhibition is being hosted by the Park Plaza Westminster Bridge as part of the Italian Design Exhibition Area (IDEA), which showcases Italian design talent.

Scheduled to run September 22 - October 22, IDEA showcases the work of well known names such as Alessi, Danese and Foscari, as well as lesser known designers from Italy.

"Travel Through Design" will focus exclusively on products related to the world of travel through design or inspiration and is curated by Dyade, a design and art consultancy.

It is being held as part of London Design Festival, which runs September 17-25 in the British capital.

The exhibition will also see the launch of a new collection of products created for the Park Plaza brand by Milanese designer Odoardo Fioravanti, making the brand one of the first in the world to boast a designer luggage line of its own.
